NO. 5 HEAVIEST MAIL

TRAIN IN THE WORLD

The largest mail train in the world passes through North Platte every evening at 5:45 and is known as train No. 5. It carries mail over the Union Pacific railroad for every city and hamlet west of the Rocky mountains and mail for the Orient by the coal load. Mail for Yokohama, Tokyo, Calcutta, Manila, Java, Honolulu, Vladivostok and other far east cities is carried. This train consists of nine cars and is a solid all-steel, vestibuled train. Early in the morning fast mail trains on the Burlington and Northwestern lines dump their train loads of mail into the Union Pacific transfer at Council Bluffs. A host of workers have already been lined up and they immediately and with energy, pounce upon the incoming mail and the trans-continental train, with crew alert, is at the same moment ready to pull out the moment the mail is transferred.

The Union Pacific mail train has eleven export workers. They distribute the mail for forty-two so-called distributing stations. In addition there is one long car that carries mail for local distribution. At Green River some of the cars are transferred to the Pacific Northwest. At Ogden the mail that has been collected for Los Angeles is taken off, the big bulk of the mail for southern California being carried by the Santa Fe. There is also one car that is taken off at Sacramento, while the mail for the Orient goes to Frisco. Council Bluffs is the only station in this country where the mail for the Orient is thoroughly worked. The car carrying it is not even unlocked until it arrives at Frisco.

The mail crew of eleven men work as far as Cheyenne where another crew relieves it. Another crew is taken on at Ogden who make the run to Frisco.

The superintendent of the mails at the transfer, after examining his records made the statement that an average of 700,000 pounds of mail and frequently more than 1,000,000 pounds of mail is handled there every day.

Conditions of Unrest Dangerous.

In Paris it is admitted that grave danger lurks in the path of the peace settlement, many troublesome questions still remaining to be solved, some of them threatening to bring on additional wars. The nations are all too ready to fight again, that spirit being in the air at this time, say prominent officials.

All nations are more warlike immediately after a war than during any other time, it is pointed out. By way of illustration the stand of the United States immediately after the civil war, when she was ready to clash with both France and England, is referred to. The situation is considered extremely "ticklish" and every available ounce of diplomacy must be used to prevent a break.

Trammen Back Wilson.

Resolutions endorsing the proposed league of nations and requesting a new trial for Thomas J. Mooney, convicted in the San Francisco bomb plots were adopted by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in convention at Columbus, Ohio.

BUILD NOW AND GIVE EMPLOYMENT TO LABOR

Set your money to work building a home of your own. This is the period of readjustment, and idle dollars are as detrimental to the national welfare as idle men.

Building is a basic industry. To build a home, aside from the obvious benefits to the home owner, is to make an important and direct contribution to national readjustment and reconstruction.

First, the country needs thousands of homes. After that the home builder creates a demand for stone, bricks, lumber, hardware, concrete, paint, etc., etc.; money circulates—only blood that circulates makes for health. Building absorbs labor. That is of prime importance right now when thousands of soldiers are being released from the Army and industry is in transition from the war to the peace gear.

Your money, invested in building a home, works for your permanent prosperity and welfare and at the same time renders a no less tangible service to your country. Put your money to work—BUILD NOW.

Higgins Writes of Roads.

Editor Tribune: There is much interest being taken in roads. Why not? Who is not interested in good roads? But there is always a tax-payer's side to the expenditure of public funds that needs looking after. Criticism in such matters is easy, but never adversely affects economical expenditures. Granted that criticism is too often the effusion of diseased, demagogical brains, nevertheless as a taxpayer interested in good roads, I would take a shot—people can consider the source.

Observations and something to do with making roads the past sixty years have given the some set views. First of these is economy. It should be kept in mind that Lincoln county has a large area, that all the people are not tributary to the roads leading from one town to another; that all farmers need roads over which to get to market; that they are all taxpayers, and that the most of them have automobiles. While they don't have the time, even when the clock is turned ahead, to joy ride, they ride some and get a jolt that shakes them up, too.

The condition of the road from the state farm east some eight miles last fall and all winter should be suggestive of the right and the wrong way of grading roads. To ditch a road, dangerous to joy riders and almost impassable for everyone to travel on account of loose and unnecessary grade, is spending money not only uselessly but is a great hindrance to travel. The money expended on those eight miles rightly used would have made many miles of good road. Our dry and light roads should be fitted as little as possible for many reasons. The drag, and not the grader, should be the tool used. It is not height that is needed, but a hard, oval surface as a protection against winds and water. Most certainly the tax-payers' money should be expended with reference to his burden and his interests.

Many Suicides in Omaha.

Twenty-six Omahans have fallen victim to the suicide wave which has swept Omaha during the past 36 days. The epidemic of self-destruction has claimed 13 men and 13 women. Seldom, if ever, investigation of records show has a suicide epidemic reached such proportions in any other city in the United States in so short a time.—Omaha Bee.

SPLENDID MEMORIAL PROGRAM AT THE NATIONAL CEMETERY

This year more than in many years past people will look forward to the celebration of Memorial Day. In this community they await with interest the celebration of this national holiday at Fort McPherson National Cemetery. No effort is being spared to arrange a good program this year and it gives promise of being one of the best patriotic programs ever rendered at the Cemetery. People generally, under the leadership of Mr. Heil, are taking an active interest and are aiding in every way in their power to make this celebration one to be long remembered. Two addresses will be given by forceful speakers; music suitable to the occasion will be rendered; one or more readings have been provided and the soldiers' graves will be decorated by school children. A program which will attract wide-spread attention and will call together a throng of people from the surrounding country.

COUNTY NEWS.

Maxwell News.

(From the Telepost.)
More work was done on the ball ground Monday and it is now in fine shape. The ball season is here and Maxwell is ready for it.

E. D. Wilson has bought Mr. Cohn's interest in the blacksmith shop and garage and the new firm will be known as Wilson Bros.

E. M. Leech has been elected president and Ray C. Langford of North Platte vice-president of the Farmers' State Bank of Maxwell.

H. L. Schriver and family moved from the ranch to Gothenburg last Friday where Mr. Schriver will continue in the ranch business on a smaller scale.

Brady News.

(From the Brady Vindicator)
Lucille Dart had the misfortune to have her collar bone broken while at play in the school yard last Thursday afternoon. The children were playing at some game and the little girl was thrown to the ground with the above result.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the two local bank statements. The combined statement show $558,436.13 on deposit, an increase of about one hundred thousand dollars since the February statements. Don't look reasonable that Brady district should be so slow in taking up its quota of the Victory Liberty Loan.

Alf Bergstrom circulated a petition in town this week which will be sent to congress requesting the government to repeal the new daylight saving law. Mr. Bergstrom's petition with others being circulated over the country will no doubt in time bring results, but we believe the surest way would be for the town board to adopt the old time.

McCalman Resigns.

D. S. McCalman resigned his position as Superintendent of Construction at the Republic Chemical Works of this city, to accept the appointment as State Superintendent of Highways of Wyoming and left for Cheyenne last Friday. We are sorry to lose D. S. and family and congratulate Wyoming on securing the services of a man who thoroughly understands the road business.—Sutherland Courier.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the ladies of the Platte Valley Aid for the beautiful flowers, also the friends, neighbors and nurse, Mrs. Emma Padgett for their sincere assistance during the illness and death of my sister, Mollie C. Cole. I also thank the friends in both North Platte and Hershey.

W. C. Cole.

Yo Ho, Ho, and a Bottle of Rum

When Anson Carlyle, ninth in descent from Capt. Geoffrey Carlyle of Glasgow, Scotland, died in battle with the Canadian forces at Vimy Ridge, the Carlyle line was wiped out. Young Carlyle's few treasures fell into alien hands. Among these was a manuscript apparently written by Capt. Carlyle in 1687, recounting the story of exiles and pirates, calculated to stir the blood of all who might read. At least that is the way Randall Parrish accounts for his latest and best story, "Wolves of the Sea." Whether such a manuscript ever existed outside of Parrish's imagination, makes no difference, it is a cracking good story that will give you many a thrill before you finish it.

The Tribune has secured the publication rights to "Wolves of the Sea" in this territory, and it will appear in this paper in serial form. "Wolves of the Sea" is a good old fashioned pirate yarn, with a thrill in every chapter. There is a treasure chest, a dark mystery aboard a derelict death ship, the burning, vengeful hatred of "Black" Sanchez, and the constant bristling dangers of bloody fights, mutiny, storms and shipwreck, beauty in distress and a hero to the rescue. And of course, a happy ending of all bloodshed and daring adventure. Watch for the first installment of this thrilling story, Tuesday, June 3rd.

He Didn't Know the Difference.

There was a booze hound from western Nebraska.

The bootleggers he tried to corral, He that he had a tip when a man with a grip

Dropt into a Lincoln hotel.

The man was a rustic, just in from the jungles.

Was dealing somewhat in live stock, His grip was quite bulky, but he didn't

act sulky

When he dropt it and busted the lock

Now when the lock broke something ran out

And trickled along on the floor;

The booze hound in his haste took

one little taste

"That's booze, by golly," he swore.

Now during the fracas the pups woke up.

They opened their eyes and both yawned.

My story is ended, the pups were befriended.

I wonder, was it bottled in BOND.

The Anderson Carnival Co. folded its tents Saturday night after a week's stand in the south part of town. The show features were poor, and attracted few attendants, though there was quite a big crowd on the grounds each night. Friday evening two of the ring racks were closed by order of the police because they were operated in too much of a gambling manner.

Strayed.

About April 1, from the Wyman place, 2 miles west of town, 2 dark grey 3 yr. old colts, 1 light grey 2 year old colt. One wore halter when last seen.

NOTICE.

To Conner Moore, defendant: You are hereby notified that on the 14th day of January, 1919, the plaintiff, Mary Moore, filed her petition for absolute divorce from you in the District Court of Lincoln county, Nebraska, alleging in said petition as her grounds for said divorce that you have been guilty of extreme cruelty toward said plaintiff and that you have wholly failed to provide maintenance for her, although of sufficient ability to do so, and that you have been guilty of extreme cruelty in other respects as set forth in her petition now on file. That plaintiff has been unable, after due and reasonable inquiry and search, to determine your place of address, and has therefore obtained an order for service upon you by publication and that plaintiff is asking an absolute divorce from the bonds of matrimony.

You are required to answer this petition by the 23rd day of June, 1919, or judgment will be taken against you as prayed in plaintiff's petition.

Dated May 28th, 1919.
